Hi Jeff,

Arup and I are submitting two proposals to the IT Innovation Contest at UCSF. The first is titled "Driving Quality and Safety through Gamification", and it is the project aimed to use gaming mechanics to engage nurses in the PICU and PCICU. Here is the link to the project proposal: <http://open-proposals.ucsf.edu/itcontest/proposal/131>

The other project is "Social Networking to Promote Development of Regional Best Practices in Pediatric Critical Care", and this is to support the Pediatric Intensive Care Network (PICN) collaboration database. Here is the link to that project proposal: <http://open-proposals.ucsf.edu/itcontest/proposal/159>

Arup and I will be providing a small but significant amount of support to these projects, likely to be averaging between 5-10 hours a week during the project build periods. As I mentioned to you, as part of the application process, we need your approval of us using our time for this purpose. If you can please respond to this email with an affirmation of your approval, that should suffice. If you would like to discuss further, please let me or Arup know.

Thank you in advance,

Lindsay
